

Beetle Flags, 2008

This project was born from a collection of treaties and Shares, between the USA and states of south America from 1945 until the present day. These documents are Cut and bent to form the insects.

The insect are a parasitic form, in fact lays its eggs on a leaf and when the eggs opens, the small insects devouring the Leaf to grow and take life.

In the same way the United States used the treaties Concluded with the countries of South America for influence Political and social life of those countries.
